

Thursday presented us with a light shifty northerly which saw the race delayed for a couple of hours for the breeze to settle. Eventually we started in what was looking like it was a building sea breeze. The wind never quite got there and remained light and shifty. After the last northerly race we had a few people decided to go right on the first work which didn't pay this time. Eventually we finished on a shortened course.

First was Frankenskiff followed by Nuplex then Garde

Points are tight at the top of the table. The first race on Saturday sees the second drop come into play and this should mix things up again.

The don brooke teams points gap is opening with every race and giving the kiwis an almost unassailable lead.

Thursday evening was a night where we marked a milestone for the class. This interdominion is the 50th year we have contested for the Silasec Trophy. Dinner at the RNZYS was sold out with 275 guests. Peter Montgomery was MC for the evening and called up people from past to present to talk about how their experiences of the 12 foot skiffs. The occasion was a huge success and enjoyed by young and old.
